DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 2, 2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 32, 34, 35, 42-44, 46 and 48-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Viegas (US 5,307,955). Viegas discloses a flexible container for liquid cleanser (Fig 1) having two flexible members (10, large flat sides) having a modulus of elasticity conducive to liquid containment and gaseous inflation, the chamber containing liquid cleanser, specifically, liquid soap (Col 1, lines 8-13) and a closure having a hollow cylinder (31), having an open first end (Fig 30, bottom), and an open second end (50) and having a flexible base (19) coupled to the flexible members (see Fig 1) for repetitive filling and expelling of liquid cleanser in response to squeezing force applied to the members and a stopper (62) to seal the hollow cylinder, the container further comprising a hanger (4, 6). Based on applicants remarks of December 5, 2006, it is well settled that soap is an emulsifier (page 10), therefore, Viegas discloses a liquid emulsifier. Viegas further discloses the flexible members forming a chamber having a recognizable shape, specifically a geometric shape, rectangular. The closure of Viegas is a retractable valve cylinder (50) having a second end of the flexible closure that is sealed and extends into the chamber, having a transfigurible slit (30) disposed near the end for fluid exchange in response to a squeezing force applied.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 33 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Viegas (US 5,307,955) in view of Besse et al. (US 5,810,201). Viegas discloses all the limitations of the claims, including a hanger attached to the flexible members, but does not disclose the flexible members formed of vinyl material. Besse et al. disclose a similar container which holds liquid soap (Fig 2, 21) which is created from polyvinyl chloride (Col 6, line 3), which is a well known flexible plastic. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to create the container of Viegas out of polyvinyl chloride as taught by Besse et al. as it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

4. Claims 36, 37, 40 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Viegas (US 5,307,955) in view of Haugk et al. (US 5,937,554). Viegas discloses all the limitations of the claims except for an insert suspended in the liquid cleanser, of a predetermined size that prevents expulsion of the insert from the container via the flexible closure. Haugk et al. disclose a container with a film insert in the container, and unattached to any interior surface, in a similar container as those known in the art to be used for liquid soaps and other cosmetics in order to add a three dimensional decorative design to the container. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to create the container of Viegas with the insert of Haugk et al. in order to add a three dimensional decorative design to the interior of Viegas' container.

5. Claim 45 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Viegas (US 5,307,955) in view of Flackett et al. (US 6,343,712). Viegas discloses all the limitations of the claim except for the recognizable shape being an animal shape.

Flackett et al. disclose a liquid dispenser for use with liquid soap, having a similar closure design (Fig 6, 32) to Viegas which is formed in the shape of an animal (specifically, a lizard) as a decorative feature. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to create the container of Viegas in the animal shape taught by Flackett et al. in order to improve the aesthetic qualities of the liquid soap dispenser.

6. Claim 47 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Viegas (US 5,307,955) in view of Henning et al. (US 3,623,638). Viegas discloses all the limitations of the claim except for the recognizable shape being a flower design. Henning et al. disclose a liquid dispenser for use with liquid soap (Fig 1) that is formed in the shape of a flower (12) (specifically, a sunflower) as a decorative feature. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to create the container of Viegas in the flower shape taught by Henning et al. in order to improve the aesthetic qualities of the liquid soap dispenser.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
